CDFA Training Institute Announces Intro Tax Credit Finance WebCourse Early Bird Rates Expire on March 2

Join CDFA for our next online course offering: the Intro Tax Credit Finance WebCourse on March 21-22, 2018. This course will discuss the practical application of tax credit programs including New Markets, Low-Income Housing, Historic Preservation, and state-specific programs. Don't forget to sign up by Friday, March 2 to save significantly on registration costs.

This course qualifies for the CDFA Training Institute's Development Finance Certified Professional (DFCP) Program. Start down the road to personal and professional advancement today.

At the Intro Tax Credit Finance WebCourse, you will:

- Learn about the application of state and federal tax credit programs
- Hear from leading tax credit professionals from around the country
- Review best practices and case studies that can be implemented in your community
- Gain a greater understanding of the partnership opportunities in the tax credit industry

Registration for this course includes a copy of the Tax Credit Finance Reference Guide which provides an exploratory overview of how communities can use tax credit finance programs, such as New Markets Tax Credits, Low-Income Housing Tax Credits, or Historic Rehabilitation Tax Credits, to support economic growth.

How a WebCourse Works

The Intro Tax Credit Finance WebCourse will be presented via the web over two days and will include lecture and presentations from speakers throughout the country. Attendees will be asked to log into the WebCourse from 12-5pm (Eastern) on each day of the course and will be able to raise their hands, ask questions, comment on presentations, and take interactive polls during the sessions. CDFA's Course Advisor will also be moderating the WebCourse to ensure speaker and participant interaction throughout each session.

Participants must have access to a computer and phone to attend the WebCourse. Participants will receive instructions for logging into the WebCourse in a follow-up email after registering. Course materials will be mailed to participants approximately one week before the course.
